100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners. Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. When committed, he said he was the property of Mr. Elliot, of Baltimore, but now says he is the property of a Mr. Tyson, of the same place, and that he will be entitled to his freedom in a short time.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 13, 1819.

Washington, August 12.

We understand that Robert Brent, Esq. has resigned the office of Paymaster General of the Army. Our readers will be concerned to learn that continued ill health is the cause of this vacation of office. His successor is not yet named.

ROBBERY.

Baltimore, August 10.

A Mr. Billingsly was arrested yesterday morning, by three armed footpads, on the Philadelphia road, about 6 miles from, on his way to Baltimore. He was in his gig, they sprang from the side of the road, one seized the horse by the head, the others jumped into the gig, presented pistols to his breast, threatened his life, and demanded his money. He surrendered at discretion—they searched him and fortunately obtained but about ten dollars. They then left him without doing him any bodily injury, and proceeded towards Bush—they were white men, without any disguise, with countenances and appearance indicative of their infamous vocation. [Patriot.

The Richmond Enquirer enquires where commodore Perry is going? We shall tell him—two vessels were fitted out in one of our ports by the Spanish royal agents, while Don Onis was at Washington; they contained supplies for the Spanish general Morillo, and information of the fact having been communicated to commodore Brion, the chief naval officer of the republic of Venezuela, he intercepted those vessels, seized them, they were libelled and condemned as Spanish property under false colors, in an admiralty court, constituted conformably with the law of nations—it is to demand those condemned vessels that commodore Perry has been sent. More anon—as the saying is. [Aurora.

Philadelphia, August 10.

Verbal accounts are received in town by the Columbia, from St. Thomas, whence she sailed on the 20th ult. that a vessel arrived at that place in three days from Margaretta, bringing intelligence that admiral Brion's fleet, consisting of 29 sail, with 1500 troops under the command of colonel English, sailed from Margaretta on the 13th, it was thought for Barcelona. The troops on board were chiefly new recruits, lately arrived from England; were well appointed, and in fine spirits.

The Columbia brought no news of commodore Perry's squadron. No vessel had arrived at St. Thomas that had spoken the squadron.

A squadron of 5 vessels, under French colours, touched at St. Thomas on the 19th, and sailed the same day on a cruize. Other accounts from St. George say, that this squadron was off those Islands on the 28th of July, were commanded by l'Admiral Dupeere, said they were last from Guadalope, bound for Maquelon, a small island near cape May. The vessels were the frigates la Glorie and la Thorn; the brigs l'Olivier and l'Euryle. The schooner was not mentioned. [Union.

Baltimore, August 10.

We learn by the schr. Proserpine, capt. Massicot, arrived yesterday, in 17 days from Laguira, that it was reported there, admiral Brion with a considerable naval force and eleven hundred troops, had attacked and captured Barcelona.

A letter from Valparaiso, dated the 4th of May, and received in Boston, states, that Lord Cochrane has excluded from his blockade, the port of Payta, and left it free for whale ships to enter for supplies. Lord C. had taken the Island of San Lorenzo, and had captured a number of small vessels, which he had converted into bomb vessels and fire and explosion ships. The same letter adds—"Captain Myrick and crew of the Cossack, were still detained as prisoners, at the Gulf of California. The Macedonian, Capt. Downs, sailed from this port on the 25th ult. for the Gulf of California, and we may entertain the hope of the speedy release of our countrymen now in captivity, and that a restitution of property, most shamefully plundered, will be made, and a stop put to the atrocities which have been committed in that quarter."

Norfolk, August 9.

The British ship Higson, capt Johnson, 40 days from Cork, anchored in Hampton Roads yesterday. Captain J. states that markets were generally improving—that it was reported when he sailed, that the British government had remonstrated with Spain against the cession of the Floridas to the United States, offering to assist the Spaniards with troops in keeping possession of them; and that it was the impression that in the event of the Floridas being ceded to this country, Cuba would be immediately given up to Great Britain.

It is only 90 days since the Higson left the Capes of Virginia for Cork.

HORRID MURDER.

On Thursday last, the body of a man drifted ashore at Shrewsbury Beach. His head, one of his legs, and one of his arms had been recently cut off. From his dress, and marks with India ink on his arms, he was no doubt a seaman, and has probably been murdered on board one of the piratical cruizers that infest our coast. This fact shows the desperate depravity of the human beings who assemble for the purpose of committing robberies on the high seas. [N. York Gaz. Aug. 9.

From the Virginia Herald.

The following melancholy article is communicated from a source so respectable as to leave no doubt of the facts stated; but we think the ardent feelings of our correspondent have led him too hastily to pronounce a censure upon the moral character of our country. We know too well the benevolent feelings of our fellow citizens.—We have seen too many instances of their open-handed charity—of their lavish bounty to all descriptions of supplicants—to admit for a moment that a meritorious object, such as the one described below, would be permitted to travel through our state and suffer for common sustenance, had he made his situation known.—No, the poorest negro, in the meanest hut, from Baltimore to the Bowling-Green, would cheerfully share his morsel with the poor traveller who only asked for bread. The ready and active kindness with which this unfortunate man was treated at the Bowling-Green, so soon as his situation was known, is itself an evidence that his sufferings and his death are not chargeable to any want of benevolent feeling on the part of our fellow-citizens. We can readily trace them to another source. He was a foreigner, unused to our climate, and ignorant of our character. The days that he is stated to have travelled from Baltimore, were the hottest we have had this unusually dry and hot summer. Our hardiest field negroes were not able to keep the field under the burning heat of a mid-day sun. It is not then to be wondered at, that one unused to its influence, who imprudently exposed himself day after day, and that too without taking the necessary aliment to sustain the body—drinking incessantly large draughts of cold water—should fall a victim to his imprudence. The consequences of such conduct could scarcely be otherwise than fatal. We therefore publish the fate of this unfortunate young man, as a warning to others similarly situated, and protest against its being used as an argument against us on the score of benevolence. And while, with our warm hearted correspondent, we lament the melancholy end of this ill-fated young man, we cannot feel that our "country is dishonored by it;" or her character or ours at all "inculpated."

COMMUNICATION.

DIED, at the Bowling-Green, on Tuesday the 3d instant, Francis Duffin, (as he called himself) after many hours of the most distracting anguish.

He came through the heat and dust fairly dragging one foot after the other, presenting to the eye of sympathy the very picture of misery. Death was stamped on his countenance too plain to pass unobserved by the most heedless. With imploring eye he asked for water only, and if there was an hospital near at hand in which he could be admitted, for that he was almost gone. On enquiry it seems that his situation was the effect of starvation!—Two or three days and nights without any thing but water, which, from the heat of the weather to a pedestrian is hard to be resisted, tho' oft at such times a deadly poison, he had struggled onward from Baltimore with the hope of reaching Richmond, the place of his destination. Refreshments were immediately afforded him, and medical aid called in without delay. But it was all unavailing: for the tyrant had marked the wanderer for his own. Hunger, with excessive draughts of water, had so disordered his stomach that nothing could be left upon it for a moment. It was the physician's impression, that gangreen had commenced several days before reaching the Bowling Green. A most insatiable thirst seemed to be burning him up—so ungovernable was he rendered by it, that in despite of all opposition he would get to the pump, when whole pitchers full would be gulpped down in rapid succession, which was instantly cast up.

It was a source of consolation to the benevolent and sympathising witness of this scene of suffering, that the victim was borne up in the awful conflict by a faith that could not be shaken by the terrific frown of death. He prayed incessantly for death to come speedily to his relief.

The account given by him in his dying moments, we may say, (for he came dying) could but affect the feeling heart of every country, but more especially our own. It could hardly be conceived that in a country where the means of subsistence are so easily procured, that any human being could be suffered to starve. It had been believed, that the charity inherent in every man's bosom would have precluded such a catastrophe in relation to the most obnoxious and repulsive vagrant that ever landed on our shores. But from the fate of the deceased, who so far from being repulsive, was modest, decent and respectably clothed, it seems that this greatest of all christian virtues was forgotten by those on his route hither, to whom he applied for assistance—not assistance in the form of alms, but in return for his labor.

We, in our moments of exultation, proudly claim the first rank of national character. It is found, however, that the specimen presented to the unfortunate foreigner in question, is little calculated to confirm our title to such pre-eminence even in our own estimation.

The deceased, from his representation, was a boot and shoe-maker, who had a short time since sailed from London for the United States—landed at Baltimore, and finding no prospect of employment in that distressed city, he was advised that Richmond would present a theatre for his trade, and trusting to fortune he set out on foot without money, with the expectation of getting work on the way to defray expences. There can be no doubt of his industry; for on arriving at the Bowling Green, he, while in the agonies of death, still under the sustaining influence of hope, "which still bears us up, nor quits us when we die," was inquisitive about the prospect of getting employment.

The writer of these lines was sensibly affected at the mournful fate of this young emigrant; who, urged by the most laudable enterprize, had been induced to snap the many tender ties which bound him to his native home, to forego all the endearments of friendship and affection, and adventurously seek his fortune in a more promising land, found on his landing even at the threshold of his short career, that all his fond hopes were delusive. A few short weeks, ended in despair, closed the scene.

The consideration of this young emigrant's sufferings in "the land of the free and the home of the brave," cut me to the soul. I felt that my country had been dishonored, and indignant at that disgrace in which I could but feel myself nationally inculpated, I exclaimed, in the language of the feeling Cumberland—

When the aged and infirm vainly put up their prayer
For that mite, which your mass without missing could spare—
The angel of vengeance your crime shall enrol,
Among those of the Demons who murder the soul.

It is however to be hoped, for charity-sake, that there is not such a dereliction from the best feelings of the heart any where to be found in this favored land, as to admit that a fellow-creature should starve in despite of supplication for assistance. It is believed in the present instance that it was owing much to the diffidence and modesty of the sufferer. It may of a truth be said of him, in the language of the Scripture, "to dig, he was unable, and ashamed to beg;"—And, under this view of the case, it is the more to be lamented, that the eye of benevolence had not been more keen in descrying suffering virtue, and the hand of charity more prompt in affording timely relief to so modest and unassuming a supplicant.

TO THE EDITOR.

South West Mountains, 5th Aug. 1819.

SIR—This section of the state is visited, this season, by a drought of almost unprecedented duration. Its effects on the corn crop and on water courses, surpass those produced by the great drought in the year 1806. It is only by vast exertion with the hand-spike that boats loaded with three hogsheads of tobacco can be gotten over the shallows of James River. The mills are nearly all dry; and the corn is withering in the fields. From information which I have recently received by letter, and verbally, from different sources, it appears that this calamity not only extends in a line from N. Carolina to Maryland, but that it reigns throughout the middle country. I trust that lower and western Virginia are more fortunate. Happily for us, the crop of wheat is generally abundant, and of good quality. It is, however, to be apprehended, that the general pressure for money, may induce too many of our farmers to send to market the whole of their crops, heedless of the coming scarcity. It is painful to think of the sufferings and privations that hover over the heads of thousands and tens of thousands of poor families living on the ridges, whose blighted fields will scarcely yield a peck of corn to the thousand hills. I hope, Mr. Editor, that you will awaken the public attention to this important subject, and by eliciting information as to the degree and extent of the prevailing evil, avert future suffering by timely precaution.

A SUBSCRIBER.

We agree with "a subscriber" about the utility at this time of an Agricultural Report, from each county or district of the state. We respectfully invite communications upon the subject. Could we persuade some intelligent postmaster, in each district, to give us the average crop of wheat, the state and prospects of corn and tobacco, monthly, until these two last crops came in, the work might be promptly and satisfactorily done. But we invite intelligence from all quarters on this interesting subject. [Editor.

Few anecdotes are more pleasing than the one told in the following article. Dr. Salter has raised his own character and that of his country. There is no feature so noble, in the national character, as disinterestedness. The fact is, Dr. S. has but obeyed the constitution of his country, perhaps without recollecting its provision.—"No person holding any office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state." U. S. C. sect. 9. art. 7. Dr. S. returns the present promptly without asking the consent of Congress. In these times, really, such an anecdote is truly refreshing.

From the Georgetown Messenger.

MESSRS. DUNN & Co.

It is with mingled feelings of pride and pleasure that I hand you for publication the following little anecdote, communicated to me by one of our distinguished naval officers, just arrived from the Mediteranean.

When the Franklin 74 was lying off Naples, the Emperor and Empress of Austria, and the King of Naples, expressed a desire to visit the ship; and were accordingly received on an appointed day, with all the honors due to their exalted stations. A royal salute was fired, the yards manned, the boatswain piped their majesties on board of one of the finest ships in the world. Nothing was spared by our gallant commander to render the visit of his Imperial and Royal guests agreeable; and they expressed in the most undisguised manner the pleasure they felt at their reception, and their amazement at a scene which, to their Imperial Majesties especially was so entirely novel. An unfortunate accident, however, interrupted the pleasures of the day. The chamberlain of the Empress fell down the main hatchway and broke his leg; which, however, was immediately set, on the spot, in the most skillful and satisfactory manner, by the surgeon of the ship, Dr. Salter. This unfortunate event of course caused a great deal of anxiety; and as soon as the chamberlain was placed in a litter, their Majesties accompanied him on shore. The next day the Emperor sent Dr. Salter a purse containing one hundred doubloons, (fifteen hundred dollars) which, however, was promptly returned by that gentleman, with a note stating his reasons for so doing, which were simply, that "he was an American officer, and had done nothing but his duty." The astonishment of the Emperor at this unlooked for return, was excessive; but he could not but openly express his admiration of the independence of character displayed by the American surgeon.—His courtiers, however, were thunderstruck—"To return the present of an Emperor, Santa Maria! and 100 doubloons too!"—And they held up their hands in admiration of an act which they had never heard of before, and which they felt they could not imitate.

It is by such acts as these, that we may expect our national character to be established abroad. A naval victoty may make us feared—but this moral victory, if I may so term it, must make us respected and esteemed; and cannot fail to shed additional lustre on the rising glory of our navy.

THE FOLLY OF ANTICIPATING TROUBLE.

Afflictions seen in prospective, are more appalling than when they actually arrive; for there are few but are attended by some alleviating circumstances that deaden their force. Why then should we sour the present cup of happiness, by anticipating trouble that may never reach us, and in probabilities dependant only on a thousand contingent circumstances never likely to concur at once? The folly of doing so will be placed in a stronger light by the following anecdote:

A country woman set her daughter, a girl of fifteen, to bake, while she went to a neighbor's. After some stay she returned and found the oven sparkling hot, and her daughter in another apartment, in the greatest agony and tears—A sight so unexpected excited the tenderest sympathy in the maternal bosom, and solicitude for the cause. After much entreaty the daughter complied:—"I was thinking, (said she) if I was married and should have a dear little child, and it should live to run about, and I should be baking as I am now, and I should go out for fuel, and should leave it alone, and it should take a chair, and should get up to the mouth of the oven, and should crawl in, and should burn itself to death, and to a crisp, what a terrible thing it would be—oh! oh! oh! dear—what should I do?"

Let us not smile at the imaginary trouble of a girl, while half the ills we feel are equally imaginary—but meet those that really exist with fortitude, and they will become less formidable in proportion as they are met with firmness. MIRZA.

VEVAY,

The seat of justice for Switzerland county, Indiana.

This town is about 45 miles from Cincinnatti, 64 miles from Louisville, and 48 miles from Frankfort, (the metropolis of Kentucky) standing on the bank of the Ohio river, in an extensive, high, dry, beautiful, commanding, and healthy bottom.—It is commodiously laid out with spacious streets, intersecting each other at right angles and open squares, reserved for public buildings, convenience, and ornament.—It is only in the fifth year of its age, and it contains about 400 inhabitants—a court-house, jail, market house, school house, circulating library, a branch of the state bank of Indiana, a printing office, several stores, mechanics of almost every description, about 70 dwelling houses, 8 or 9 new buildings now erecting and unfinished, numerous stables and out houses, together with between 10 and 20 shops of different descriptions.

Immediately below the town of Vevay, is the noted settlement of Europeans denominated and known by the name of the Swiss Vineyards. This settlement commences at the lower edge of the town, and continues without any break or interruption down to the mouth of Indian creek, a distance of about two miles, on a level bottom, about one half mile wide.

In no part of the world does the eye meet with more numerous proofs of industry; the whole settlement is interspersed and checkered over with grapes, apples, pears, plums, cherries, peaches, corn, grass and buck-wheat.

The vine is cultivated with success, and in great abundance; far beyond the consumption of the adjoining country, and yields a very handsome profit to the cultivator. These vineyards are of great utility to the surrounding country, and a great source of pleasure and amusement to all classes of society, both citizens and travellers.

The houses of the Swiss in this settlement are nearly all built of wood; some, however, are well built and neatly painted. The neatness of the domestic concerns and the people is striking; even the most humble of their houses convey an idea of neatness and simplicity, and impress a pleasing conviction of their happiness. Each have their own lot of ground fronting on the river and running back for quantity, which they have neatly distributed into a vineyard, a garden, a field, a meadow, a pasture, and an orchard, all of which they have skirted with different trees, and supplied with well water. Their chief amusements are singing, instrumental music, and dancing.

FROM THE SEIGE OF CORINTH.

"Upon his hand she laid her own—
Light was the touch but it thrill'd to the bone,
And shot a chilliness to his heart,
Which fixed him beyond the power to start:
Though slight was that grasp so mortal cold,
He could not loose him from its hold;
But never did clasp of one so dear,
Strike on the pulse with such feeling of fear,
As those thin fingers long and white,
Froze through his blood, by their touch that night,
The feverish glow of his brow was gone,
And his heart sank so still, that it felt like stone,
As he looked on the face, and beheld its hue,
So deeply changed from what he knew:
Fair but faint—without the ray
Of mind, that made each feature play.
Like sparkling waves on a sunny day;
And her motionless lips lay still as death,
And her words came forth without her breath;
And there rose not a heave on her bosom's swell,
And there seemed not a pulse in her veins to dwell;
Though her eye shone out, yet the lid was fixed,
And the glance that it gave was wild and unmixed
With aught of change, as the eyes may seem
Of the restless, who walk in a troubled dream:
Like the figures on arras, that gloomily glare,
Stirred by the breath of wintry air—
So seen by the dying lamp's fitful light,

Lifeless, but life-like, and awful to sight;
As they seem, through the dimness, about
to come down [frown;
From the shadowy wall where their images
Fearfully flitting to and fro,
As the guests on the tapestry come and go."

SALES AT AUCTION.

Lands for Sale.

BY VIRTUE of a power of attorney from William S. Courts to the subscriber, will be sold at public sale

On WEDNESDAY, the 15th AUGUST, in Port Tobacco, that valuable tract of land whereon John H. Barnes at present resides called lying and being in Charles county Maryland, containing between three and four hundred acres. This land is handsomely situated, lying immediately on Matawoman Creek, at least one third of which is in wood, with a sufficient quantity of marsh land for grazing—that part of the land which is in cultivation is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat and tobacco, and with proper care would be equal, if not superior to any land in that neighborhood.

Whitland and Cole,

ALSO,

At the same time and place, will be offered for sale the plantation at present in the occupancy of Francis & Sam'l Wheeler, lying about one mile from the above place, containing about four hundred acres. As it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will first view the premises, it is thought unnecessary to give a more particular description thereof. The terms of sale will be as follows: viz. possession given on the first day of January next, at which time one third of the purchase money will be required, the remaining two thirds at one and two years the purchaser giving bond with approved security with interest.—Upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a sufficient deed will be executed to the purchaser.

Five Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, on Monday the 19th inst. a yellow boy, about 20 years old, about 5 feet 2 inches high, he has a scar on his forehead; by name HENRY;—had when he ran away, two pair white sheeting pantaloons, one Osnaburg shirt, one red flannel do. a new waistcoat, deep buff with large black and white figures in it, a round dark jacket. The said boy I hired out of Thomas Mason's estate, Woodbridge, deceased. Any person who will apprehend the said boy, and fetch him to me, or lodge him in any jail, shall receive the above reward.

HENLY NELSON,
Brick Tavern, near Alexandria, on the road leading to Dumfries

For Sale,

A VALUABLE farm, distant from Alexandria about three or four miles, lying on the road leading to Mount Vernon, containing two hundred and twenty seven acres, more or less; from fifty to eighty acres of which is in good wood, and all lying well for improvement, having a proportion of up and bottom land. It is well watered in every part. There is on this land a beautiful situation for a dwelling house, surpassed by none in the neighborhood, commanding a fine view of Mount Vernon, Fort Washington, and the Potomac, and a very highly improved country around. Those wishing to view the land, are requested to apply to Walter H. Jenifer, esq. Clifton Lodge, Fairfax, county. The terms made known by application to the subscriber in Alexandria.

I. P. THOMPSON.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

ON Monday, the 28th June, eloped from Belle Isle, King George county, Virginia, two negro men, DAVID and JOHN. David is a black fellow, about forty years of age, rather below the middle size, has invariably a smile when spoken to, a good hand in the field, and a tolerable wagoner; his clothing, when he absconded, were an old felt hat, a double milled drab great coat, much worn, lined with red flannel, jacket and pantaloons of domestic cotton and yarn cloth, and a coarse linen shirt. David has a wife belonging to Mr. John Singer, who some years since moved from Culpeper county to Harrison county, Va. and for the last two years has been in habits of intimacy with a negro woman by the name of Rosel who was sold last fall, by Mrs. Berryman, of King George, to Mr. George Mason, of Gunston, Fairfax co. Va. it is probable he will attempt to get to one of these neighborhoods. Jack is a lively black fellow, about thirty years of age, of the middle size, a little bow legged, rather an awkward hand in the field, having been bred a house servant, at which he excells; rather a surly disposition, and by profession a Baptist. He has a father belonging to Mr. John B. S. Fitzhugh, near Falmouth, Stafford co. Va. and a wife and family belonging to Mr. Thos. Fitzhugh, of Brenton, Prince William co. it is highly probable he is lurking in one of these neighborhoods; had on when he absconded, an old hat, a suit of domestic cloth cotton and yarn, and a brown linen shirt, and carried with him a suit of white domestic jeans. It is probable he and David will change their names and dress. FIFTY DOLLARS will be given for apprehending and securing in jail said negroes, or half for either, if taken in the state of Virginia, or District of Columbia; or the above reward, if taken out of the state, & all reasonable charges, if brought home to the subscriber's residence. Masters of vessels, and others, are forewarned from harboring or carrying off said negroes.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
